CME ON CLINICAL MASS SPECTROMETRY

11th July 2023

Under the able guidance and visionary leadership of Prof Dr. Ramji Singh(Executive Director, AIIMS Kalyani), the Department of Biochemistry in collaboration with Thermo Fischer Scientific organized a CME on Clinical Mass Spectrometry on 11th of July 2023. The Dean (Academics) Prof Dr. Kalyan Goswami, Medical Superintendent and Associate Dean Prof Dr. Ajay Mallick, Dean Examination Prof Dr. Aparna Palit along with other faculties graced the occasion.

The Head of the Department of Biochemistry Prof Dr. Kalyan Goswami highlighted the clinical significance of upgraded technologies in diagnostic field and the need for such awareness among clinicians.

The duration of the programme was two hours which were divided into three sessions by three eminent speakers from Thermo Fischer Scientific. The first session was taken by Mr. Burzin Bharucha, Clinical Marketing Manager Thermo Fischer Scientific, who explained in details the versatility of LC MS (Liquid Chromatography Mass Spectrometry) on Clinical Diagnostics. Dr Piyush Deorkar, Product Marketing Manager Thermo Fischer Scientific described ICP MS (Inductively Coupled Plasma Mass Spectrometry) and trace element analysis, while the last session was taken by Ms. Parul Thakur, Product Marketing Manager Thermo Fischer Scientific; who added some important insights into GC MS (Gas Chromatography Mass Spectrometry). The CME ended with an interactive discussion with the speakers.
